

Individual Course Reflection

I think this was a great course that I was able to learn a lot from. The lectures were able to keep me very engaged and made it easy to learn as a result. The countless stories and experiences you shared with us helped me to see real world applications, and helped keep me engaged like I already mentioned. As far as work on the project goes, Bender and I definitely did more work than Preston, but he did do work on the projects. For both projects Bender and I worked on it before Preston and he just did the last of what was left over, which was not much either time. That being said, he did contribute to the project and it was not just Bender and I working on it by ourselves.
